When Fruitag is mentioned in this document, it refers to Fruitag AG and Fruitag B.V.

Fruitag is committed to ensure high ethical standards are met throughout the entire supply chain. We therefore require all suppliers to meet the below standards, drawn from the ETI base code. This code of practice applies to all suppliers and service suppliers of Fruitag.

1. Employment and Wages

- There is no forced, bonded or involuntary prison labour.
- Workers are not required to lodge “deposits” or their identity papers with their employer and are free to leave their employer after reasonable notice.

2. Freedom of Association and the right to collective bargaining are respected

- Workers, without distinction, have the right to join or form trade unions of their own choosing and to bargain collectively.
- The employer adopts an open attitude towards the activities of trade unions and their organisational activities.
- Workers’ representatives are not discriminated against and have access to carry out their representative functions in the workplace.
- Where the right to freedom of association and collective bargaining is restricted under law, the employer facilitates, and does not hinder, the development of parallel means for independent and free association and bargaining.

3. Working conditions are safe and hygienic

- A safe and hygienic working environment shall be provided, bearing in mind the prevailing knowledge of the industry and of any specific hazards. Adequate steps shall be taken to prevent accidents and injury to health arising out of, associated with, or occurring in the course of work, by minimising, so far as is reasonably practicable, the causes of hazards inherent in the working environment.
- Workers shall receive regular and recorded health and safety training and such training shall be repeated for new or reassigned workers.
- Access to clean toilet facilities and to potable water, and, if appropriate, sanitary facilities for food storage shall be provided.
- Accommodation, where provided, shall be clean, safe, and meet the basic needs of the workers.
- Companies shall assign responsibility for health and safety to a senior management representative.

4. Child labour shall not be used

- There shall be no new recruitment of child labour.
- Companies shall develop or participate in and contribute to policies and programmes which provide for the transition of any child found to be performing child labour to enable her or him to attend and remain in quality education until no longer a child; “child” and “child labour” being defined in the appendices.
- Children and young persons under 18 years of age shall not be employed at night or in hazardous conditions.
- These policies and procedures shall conform to the provisions of the relevant ILO standards.

5. Living wages are paid

- Wages and benefits paid for a standard working week shall meet, as a minimum, national legal standards or industry benchmark standards, whichever is higher. In any event wages should always be enough to meet basic needs and to provide some discretionary income.
- All workers shall be provided with written and understandable Information about their employment conditions in respect to wages before they enter employment and about the particulars of their wages for the pay periods concerned each time that they are paid.
- Deductions from wages as a disciplinary measure shall not be permitted nor shall any deductions from wages not provided for by national law be permitted without the expressed permission of the worker concerned. All disciplinary measures should be recorded.

6. Working hours are not excessive

- Working hours shall comply with national laws, collective agreements, and the provisions below, whichever affords the greater protection for workers.
- Working hours, excluding overtime, shall be defined by contract, and shall not exceed 48 hours per week
- All overtime shall be voluntary. Overtime shall be used responsibly, taking into account all of the following: The extent, frequency and hours worked by individual workers and the workforce as a whole. It shall not be used to replace regular employment. Overtime shall always be compensated at a premium rate, which is recommended to be not less than 125% of the regular rate of pay.
- The total hours worked in any 7 day period shall not exceed 60 hours, except where covered by the clause below.
- Working hours may exceed 60 hours in any 7 day period only in exceptional circumstances where all of the following are met:
 - This is allowed by national law;
 - This is allowed by a collective agreement freely negotiated with a workers’ organisation representing a significant proportion of the workforce;
 - Appropriate safeguards are taken to protect workers’ health and safety; and
 - The employer can demonstrate that exceptional circumstances apply such as unexpected production peaks, accidents or emergencies.
 - Workers shall be provided with at least one day off in every 7 day period or, where allowed by national law, 2 days off in every 14 day period.

8. Regular employment is provided

- As far as possible, work shall be performed on the basis of a recognised employment relationship established by national law and practice.
- Obligations to employees under labour or social security laws and regulations arising from the regular employment relationship shall not be avoided through the use of labour-only contracting, sub- contracting, home-working arrangements or through apprenticeship schemes where there is no real intent to impart skills or provide regular employment, nor shall any such obligations be avoided through the excessive use of fixed-term contracts of employment.

9. No harsh or inhumane treatment is allowed

- Physical abuse or discipline, threats of physical abuse, sexual or other harassment and verbal abuse or other forms of intimidation are prohibited.
